Sammamish Holiday Contests now live!

Community Bulletins

This week from the Snoqualmie Tribe Ancestral Lands Movement:

Winter trails being over-devoured means fewer spring flowers. ❄️🌻

Winter recreation compacts snow. This can be a cause for concern in areas with off-trail activity where compaction is somewhat random and not confined to hardened surfaces such as roads and trails. Snow compaction has the potential to affect soils and vegetation, as well as wildlife. Snow compaction can lower soil temperatures and reduce the survival of plants and soil microbes. Snow compaction and resultant changes to soil changes to soil temperatures inhibits the soil bacteria that play a critical role in the plant food cycle. In turn, this can also slow or reduce the growth and reproductive success of early spring flowers.

Our Wisdom Café will discuss “What Are You Learning?” with King County Librarian Zlatina Encheva on Wednesday, December 1, at 1 PM.

What is one thing you are learning now and why is it important to you?
